Peace Chances Again Reduced In Czech Woe

LONDON, Sept. 7.—The British government opposes secession to Germany of Czechoslovak territory occupied by the Sudeten German minority, it was stated officially tonight.

PARIS, Sept. 7.—Havas News Agency today stated in a dispatch from its Paris bureau that Sudeten German leaders had charged tonight the government was no longer master of the situation in Czechoslovakia and had interrupted negotiations with the Czech government.

PARIS, Sept. 7.—Havas News Agency in a dispatch from Nuremberg today quoted high Nazi leaders as asserting that Czechoslovakia's "last word" proposals to settle the Sudeten German autonomy question "were completely unacceptable" and would be rejected "without hesitation." The dispatch added: "Indications that the Sudeten Germans, acting on advice of the Third Reich, would refuse flatly all compromise with Praha were seen following an important conference between Foreign Minister von Ribbentrop and Konrad Henlein, leader of Czechoslovakia's Sudeten German minority."

Britain Gives Stamp Of Approval

LONDON, Sept. 7.—British official circles today put a stamp of approval on the latest Czechoslovak government proposals as a "basis on which negotiation might well be considered" with the Sudeten German minority of the republic.

Nine Points In Final Praha Plan

PARIS, Sept. 7.—In a despatch from its Praha correspondent Tuesday night, Havas French News Agency reported that the Czechoslovak government's "final" plan for settlement of the Sudeten German minority demands features a proposal for eventual division of Czechoslovakia into districts with the minorities enjoying autonomy in all matters except those directly related to national unity and defense.

Drafted in the form of nine proposals, according to the paper, it offers satisfaction in part or whole of Konrad Henlein's eight demands for Sudeten German self-rule.

The pro-Nazi minister—full length for "weltschauung" (political philosophy)—was not in the room, resuming given by the correspondents.

DOMINION TO HELP INDIANS BY FUR PLAN

Dr. Camsell Says Government Will Undertake Cultivation

To ensure a livelihood for the Indians, the Dominion government is embarking on a program of cultivation in the West Territories and several provinces, Dr. Charles Camsell, deputy minister of mines for the Dominion government, who arrived in Edmonton on Sunday Wednesday.

The mining chief was present at this historic ceremony, which marks the Canadian mining field, as he toured in a Canadian Airways plane, piloted by Com. A. J. G. Ross.

Dr. Camsell arrived here after an aerial inspection of the north, particularly the mining fields. He is not entirely satisfactory," he said, "owing to some extent to the dependence of the Indians on the fur trade."

"We are starting our cultivation plan in the Territories in Wood Buffalo by encouraging Indians to live in permanent homes in places where Indians now live and propagate."

Last year we received an application for $50,000. This year, so far has had satisfactory results and we have received co-operation from the governments of Quebec, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta,"

Seventy-two and a half pounds of yellow, syrupy metal was poured into a mould on Monday at the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company property at Yellowknife to form the first gold brick cast in the North-West Territories, it was reported by Dr. Charles Camsell, deputy minister of mines for the Dominion government, who arrived in Edmonton on Sunday Wednesday.

The mining chief was present at this historic ceremony, which marks the Canadian mining field, as he toured in a Canadian Airways plane, piloted by Com. A. J. G. Ross.

He was accompanied by Dr. G. Hanson, assistant chief geologist of the Dominion geological survey, Mr. G. E. Smith, manager of the Canadian smelter at Vancouver on Thursday morning.

"There wasn't much ceremony to it," he laugh. "It was the most casual thing I ever saw. We told them they were going to pour a brick, so we went up to see. They were so busy though it was part of the day's work."

"The brick was 72½ pounds, but it cost us $500 to make it. That will depend on the fineness."

Present when the brick was poured were most of the Yellowknife miners.

Official Estimate Canadian Crop Production Will Be Known Friday

$165,000,000 EXPECTED FOR WEST FARMERS

15,000 Men Busy Compiling Figures—The World Awaits Statement

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—Observations of some 15,000 men throughout Canada are being pooled today with the knowledge and experience of Dominion government statisticians to estimate the first official estimate of Canadian crop production for 1938.

Assuming that the wheat board handles about 300,000,000 bushels of this year's crop it would mean about $165,000,000 for the west farmers. The total Canadian wheat crop last year was valued at $157,000,000.

The estimate will be issued Friday by the Dominion bureau of statistics and is eagerly awaited on west main street as well as the prediction of what it would mean to the wheat yield of the three prairie provinces.

Preparation for the work involves the co-operation of provincial departments of agriculture and also the co-operation of the staff of the Dominion bureau of statistics.

WORK STARTS IN JUNE

The work starts early in June when, in collaboration with the provincial departments of agriculture, the Dominion bureau of statistics makes estimates of the acreage sown to the various field crops in the prairies.

The crop correspondents, scattered throughout the country, are farmers, agricultural extension and elevator agents and rural school teachers for the most part. They report directly to the bureau from time to time during the summer on crop conditions in their area, raising grain-elevator interests, soil, legume-growing anything affecting the crops.

These reports form the basis for personal records of crop conditions issued by the bureau.

"Your honor, I was playing my violin in the key of F flat. Porter went by and he said, 'What's the key in the key of F. So we got to argue pretty loud and . . .'"

"Did you fight?" the magistrate straightened out so both play in the same key?" interpolated the judge.

"Did we? Listen."

With newfound harmony, the performers swung into a hot number.

The satisfied magistrate ruled in effect: "Beat it, boys."

They did.

FREE PRESS IS EXPOUNDED BY C.P. PRESIDENT

Duchemin Relates Benefit Free Press Derives From Unhamped Publications

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—Nothing is more striking evidence than the cementation progress of civil freedom and freedom of the press, says Dr. Alexei K. Chervenkov, president of the Canadian Press and managing-director of the Toronto Star, told a meeting of the service club (Knicker) Tuesday.

Free representative institutions could not exist without a free press, he said. The present world-wide movement resulting in revolutionary reform has been attained by a simultaneous battle for freedom of the press.

NO MONOPOLY

A free press did not mean monopoly by any newspaper or person, he said. It was a matter of freedom of speech, to the printed word, he declared. A newspaper "weeklessly attacks another newspaper" and its readership has been attained by a simultaneous battle for freedom of the press.

But wonderful progress had been made in Canadian journalism during the last 30 years. That all forms of newspaper ownership were the origin of one of the political parties. Today there were still many other forms of ownership.

For example, there was a large amount of credit was due. The Canadian Press organization, which had exercised a great influence on the daily newspapers in their political news services and treatment of public affairs.

FREE PRESS CHALLENGED

There had been a challenge to a free press in Canada. One Canadian legislator had sought to control the press by a bill to regulate the policies of the government. A bill had been passed by that legislature which would have given some starting point to the press, but it would have meant extinction of a free press.

The case had been taken up by the Alberta newspapers. The Canadian Press and Canadian Newsprint companies appealed to the department of justice. The resultant decision of the Canadian Press was that the Alberta legislation was a representative parliament.

With its complete co-operative system, the Canadian Press, Canadian news and access to the services supplied by The Associated Press of Great Britain, The Canadian Press today is giving the people of Canada a new service unparalleled by any country on earth.

It has a wide range, a more objective service and is more prompt. I know of no exact counterpart.

Artificial Creation Of Life Is Now One Step Nearer Reality

By STEPHEN MELDRUM ON ASSOCIATED PRESS STAFF

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 7.—The artificial creation of life in the laboratory was one step closer to reality today as a result of a new kind of research developed by a Columbia University Nobel prize winner, Dr. Horace W. Judson. At a recent Chemical society meeting here he had found a method of creating organic chemicals which could be determined precisely.

Microbiologists May Have Caused Many Deaths

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 7.—Two United States Bureau of mines experts declared today that the use of microorganisms in coal mining may be causing great many deaths over a period of years.

MAJOR MYSTERIES

Previously such reactions have been considered normal properties of chemistry. Only six out of many hundreds were definitely known, but with the new method it was believed that all will be definitely known, and then practically any organic substance can be readily synthesized, including all of those which go to make up the living cell.

THE COMMUNIST TEST

The communist test used in determining whether an underground fire is completely out is the measurement of carbon monoxide in the air. Dr. G. W. Jones and Dr. G. S. Scott, of Pittsburgh, members of the American Chemical society, claimed monoxide always is generated by a burning fire.

FIRE STILL BURNING

Recent tests showed even though the smoke and flames were absent the fire still was burning steadily, it finally was determined bacteria to burn coal.

CREATING LIVING CELLS

Such artificial manufacture of organic chemicals may lead to the production of new drugs and other preparations which are today very expensive, other chemicals before starting an experiment.

NICKEL GIVES STRENGTH AND TOUGHNESS
TO A 25¢ SPANNER OR A 1500 TON HYDRAULIC PRESS

TODAY, if you were at the Sudbury Mines, you would find iron buckets of Nickel ore being hoisted to the surface from the depths of the earth. Tomorrow you might purchase a spanner, a screw driver or a pipe wrench containing some of that same Nickel. For Nickel is being alloyed with steel to make tools tougher, harder, stronger—but lighter in weight. In a pair of pliers or a giant lathe, Canadian Nickel prevents breakage.

The world over, makers of machinery and equipment are using Nickel Alloys. In the gold mines of New Guinea, in the San Francisco

Oakland Bridge, in the tin-mining dredges of Egypt's Aswan Dam, Nickel is doing its part in checking breakage and corrosion. In such small things too as the keys of a clarinet or a delicate surgical instrument, Nickel finds an important place.

Canada's Nickel mines must keep pace with the world demand. That is why new millions are being spent each year in Canada for new equipment, machinery and supplies to mine and refine still more Nickel. Canada's world market for Nickel must be retained.

tion of Alberta bonds to enable the government to purchase them at low rates and thus make a considerable profit.

Vigorous denial that he was engaged in any such scheme was made by Mr. Williams, who stated that he was negotiating with the government on plans which, if consummated could not fail to be of material benefit to the people of Alberta. He said that the government spokesmen also denied that any deal made were under discussion.

The British financier, in the brief submitted to the government, contends that the central purchasing agency would be able to purchase more than $12,000,000 annually on retail purchases alone which could be passed on to the general public.

MORE PROFIT

The establishment of factories in Alberta would give work to unemployed during the construction period and when these were in operation could be no secret, nothing new at all.

"Mr. Christensen, in about seven weeks, has given absolute proof of that it is here to stay," said this gentleman, on a co-operative scheme, buying goods to be sold in retail stores and buying at wholesale prices. "The scheme, when fully developed, will tend to put $500 retailers in this province out of business."

This is right here in Alberta; it has been staring you in the face for many years and inviting you to take it. This gentleman, a vice-president of the Canadian National Exhibition and past president of the Toronto board of trade, who has been re-elected chairman of the Canadian Co-operative Association for the fifth consecutive year.

This is a new angle might be considered, involving the repayment of the principal sum together with interest. Take as basis in average annual payment instead of fixed annual payments. Throw the onus of interest payment on the world, who have it in their power to reduce some of what is now being paid to us. To do this, stamp and depression and to give us steady trade, free from jazz and jingle, to a place where we can feel to do this through one central organization. There should be a ceiling on what is paid away—that is say an average of $100,000 monthly and $100,000,000 annually.

I am sure that no one in the country who has had the pleasure of meeting Premier William Aberhart and members of his cabinet by Mr. Williams, also took advantage of the opportunity to meet him personally concerning himself personally.

The brief was sent to all members of the cabinet on September 3, and dated September 5. It reads:

THE BRIEF SUBMITTED

"Toward the end of June last, I had occasion to consult an eminent Harvard University financial specialist, Lord Horatio, about the state of my health. He advised an immediate return to England, getting a trip to Australia via Canada. Also, he told me he was greatly interested in the progress taking place in Alberta and asked me to have a look around there—and if I could and would do so, that he would be in a position to alleviate the suffering of the people. This I do now in what I hope is a somewhat understandable by all who may read it.

"In visiting this medical man, I solicited the advice of an expert, who, after a careful study from practical experience with minds and bodies on a long period of years, made a general note to some well known editor, an eminent banker, to a bishop of the church in England, and to myself, that I was in the best possible condition to go to Alberta and asked me to have a look around there—and if I could and would do so, that he would be in a position to alleviate the suffering of the people. This I do now in what I hope is a somewhat understandable by all who may read it.

"Alberta, the potentially rich province of a great destiny, but one which has not yet been realized, she is not very seriously ill; not at all unless to the extent that the community is not prepared to meet her needs in order to get well again, in order to enjoy some kind of prosperity, her people or those responsible for her future, must go to some straight thinking and get the benefit of the advice which only the right people can give, and then to act upon that advice with competent management.

TRUE CAUSES

"There are causes for Alberta's trouble; for example; Jonnally having had to borrow or be responsible for money borrowed against his personal assets, in years gone by—having had to borrow when money rates were high and borrowing rates were high in a manner not to the best potential advantages of the future of the inhabitants of the province; and so on, and many mistakes made by numerous governments for one reason or another, doubtless with the best of intentions.

PLAN NOT FEASIBLE

"Major Douglas' Social Credit scheme, although it may be good in the details of it. As a student of finance for many years, particularly in the field of banking, both commercial and investment, the utmost I can learn of this scheme is:

NOT FEASIBLE

"Major Douglas' probably believes he has a good theory, which can be put to use for the material benefit of the masses—but he gives no guarantee that his theory could be acted upon and carried through in a practical way. So far as I can see, what he has to offer,

"There is the ability somewhere to have a complete plan on my theory. So go to it."

"And what he says in effect, may be true.

"Many experts in economics, both here and abroad, have investigated Major Douglas' Social Credit scheme right down to its roots and they have recommended it to be unsound. But, in the final analysis, they say Major Douglas has overlooked many vital facts.

A well known banker of the Free State such was the desire of well known experts and bankers on the part of the people of his state, had no time to grind. Some day, somewhere, someone of a group of individuals may devise a workable plan, which will be able to give democracy not only bare food and a short shift, but leisure and a reasonable amount of money. Fortune a long distance off is useless to a starving man unless he can get it to him. And fortune, may be dead before he can reach it. Especially if he doesn't know exactly where it is.

With a manly heart and dare,

To tender thoughts! Say to Without bringing me dreams.

Of the beautiful Annabel Lee."

Minute Make-Ups

By V. V.

"The bidding proceeds as follows: One diamond, East, pass me. I thought I was trapping, South, one heart. West, two clubs. North, two diamonds. East myself, in high glee, double, South, two spades. West, three clubs. North, three spades. East, four clubs. From South ("You think you can bluff me, but you can't"), five spades. West, three clubs. North, three spades. East, again, six clubs. South ("Well, that's just what I wanted you to do! Six spades!" West, doublet, seven clubs.)

"Mrs. M. South" went down one trick and my wife promptly accused me of being a "cheat" — a gentleman for forcing her in this odd. I could get little consolation out of the kind remarks of Mrs. M.'s husband, who said, "I'm glad you do with my hand and my wife?"

"A friend, in, "W.L.P., Texas."

Now, really, this is a very interesting question, but I am not very well what I would do with my correspondent's hand, but at this distance, what?

I am becoming just a little down-hearted over the insistence of certain women that their husbands are population to impose unfair discipline, indeed, downright dishonesty, on the opponents who forces them beyond the pale. I wonder if they don't realize that this is the very essence of bridge strategy? If you are a "doublet" — is it an exhibition of the Alphonse and Gaston type of courtesy? Far from it. I assure them! Bridge, it should be needless to point out, is a highly admirable pastime.

Born in Oxfordshire, England, he served during the Great War with the Princess Royal Canadian Light Infantry and returned to Canada with the rank of captain. He was the holder of the Military Cross with bar.

I would like you to tell me about salads. When does one use the salad bowl? Is it before or after the spoon? We like to serve our salad on individual plates and eat it with meat and vegetables from the same plate. Could one serve from the lovely salad bowl during the meal or would this be bad taste? Also, when eating a meal with several plates with the individual salad plates and, if not, how would bread be served and eaten?

MRS. N. V. A.

Anneau King came to the table in the middle of the meal; it makes the whole meal; is an accompaniment to the main course, or follows as a separate dish.

The cutlery goes in the bowl in the fact that the salad is brought in with all its appetizing appeal and the knife and fork are left outside — the mixing too, if you like. The serving of salad with the dinner has been a great help in simplifying the service for the housewife who serves her own meals. Eg. the salad bowl and the butter plates and salad plates are on the table at the same time. Very often the salad is placed to the right of the plate, the knife and the bread and butter plate at the left above the fork. Of course, if a ham sandwich is served, then the salad should be placed to the left of the dinner plate.

Airman Reports Fur Plentiful In Far North Areas

FOX SEASON IS BEST IN YEARS OFFICIAL SAYS

"Wop" May, O.B.E., returns from Flight To Arctic Ocean

Trappers one of the best white fox seasons last winter in several years and are shipping out many bales of fox pelts from the Arctic, says W. R. "Wop" May, O.B.E., Canadian Airways divisional manager, returning from an inspection flight which carried him as far north as Read Island in the Arctic.

On the flight north, Mr. May's plane carried repair parts for the Arctic Air Arctic Airways and brought out 220 pounds of white fox fur from Coppermine.

VISITS FAMILY

He visited the world's farthest north with his family, the Hudson's Bay Post at Read Island. The roses are all fine, reports Mrs. May, and their young son, Mrs. Ross is the former Lillian Smith of Edmonton.

Ice floes are still here but not seriously hampering freighting in the Arctic. Mr. May reported.

ON INSPECTION

Inspector D. A. Martin, R.C.M.P., is now back at present in an inspection in the Arctic, aboard the S.S. St. Roche.

Yellowknife on Great Slave lake is booming, according to Mr. May, who says he sees new buildings on every visit.

RADIO MEN GET AMATEUR BANDS FIELD MAN SAYS

American delegates to the international radio conference in Cairo early this year were able to retain all the bands or frequencies they had been working in both North and South America. A. L. Budding, field man of the American Radio Relay League, told the Edmonton amateurs at a dinner in the Corona Tuesday.

Edmontonians had sought to enclose most of the amateur bands for use in short wave propaganda broadcasts, Mr. Budding said.

There were about 50 Edmonton "hams" at the dinner, as well as members of the C.R.A., Veville and Fort Saskatchewan.

Mr. Budding advocated further experimentation with five meter portable stations that were the United States amateurs were employing short-distance communication with five metre sets installed in cars.

ORANGE CRUSH TRIUMPH LADIES' SOFTBALL FINAL

Blonde Diana
Says Baseball
Thrilling Sight

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 7—Golf is the name for this year's Fielding Cup, Crichton, former British women's champion, but baseball is a "thrilling spectacle" and worth interrupting a tour over Oakmont's famous course between Dizzy Dean and Babe Ruth.

Honeymooning at Oakmont with her newly wedded baseball husband, Brig. Gen. A.C. Crichton, the Calgary-born sports promoter of London, who is entered in the United States Open golf tournament next week, she watched Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Giants tandem.

"It was a thrilling spectacle," she beamed Tuesday, "Did Dizzy Dean play?"

Then reflecting, she replied to her own question:

"But he has something wrong with his arm, hasn't he? It's in both his arms!"

I played golf once with Babe Ruth, but I never saw him play baseball. He must have been quite a player."

Stettler Juniors Defeat Drumheller

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

STETTLER, Sept. 7—Smashing under the two game deficit on Sunday, Stettler Junior Elks turned on the heat Saturday night, defeating Juniors 13-7 and 2-1 in a double header Monday, in the north-eastern Alberta baseball circuit.

Showing a complete reversal of form from Sunday, Stettler started erratically, but drummed out a shutout.

Promoter Cutcher's latest import is "Blacksmith" Pedigo, once king of the weightlifters and now a likely campaigner for the middleweight title. Pedigo is unknown at the moment.

A reliable opponent, however, will find him in his duff which is expected to be of whirling proportions.

In signing the re-match between Dizzy and Thelma, Cutcher is endeavoring to find an opponent worthy of Pedigo's mettle. He must be a good one to give Pedigo the real test.

In sheer strength, Dizzy has it all, but to offset this the Soldier is by far the speedier of the two. If he can be seen which is the use in wrestling circles, brute strength will be of little value, so hope that "Speedball" Thomas comes out on top of Davis so he can compare notes with the foxy Pedigo later on. It promises to be a galaxy of leverage holds from the start finish.

A year ago, when Dr. J. A. Rickets, Engle Pass, Tex., dentist, was disturbed by the barking spider, entomologists shook their heads and said there could be no such species. Dr. Rickets captured the spider in a jar, sent it to a radio station for a demon.

Officials of the station indicated the spider would make its radio debut this week despite impeding motherhood.

The spider died en route to the station.

After Davis Conquest

GOMER "SOLDIER" THOMAS

Dynamic Wrestling Ace Once Drew, Now Seeks Win Against Dizzy Davis, Friday.

Given the opportunity, that dynamic dynamo, once Drew, will be back again this Friday night at the Memorial Hall. The Soldier once recently wrangled 60 minutes to a time limit draw with Dizzy Davis. This Friday the Soldier is confident he can do better and score his final triumph by pinning the champion in 45 minutes.

Showing a complete reversal of form from Sunday, Stettler started erratically, but drummed out a shutout.

Promoter Cutcher's latest import is "Blacksmith" Pedigo, once king of the weightlifters and now a likely campaigner for the middleweight title. Pedigo is unknown at the moment.

A reliable opponent, however, will find him in his duff which is expected to be of whirling proportions.

Stories of Sucker Gold
Claims Paying Fortunes
Retold by Sourdoughs

PORLTAND, Ore., Sept. 7—Stories of "sucker claims" which made millions out of seemingly quibble tenebrifer in the Klondike 40 years ago, enriched the annual convention of the Alaska-Yukon International Sourdoughs.

T. G. Wilson, one of the old timers, told the story of how he had sold his first name—joined up with his son on nearly $100,000 a day.

Dignified, he traded his stranded crew for Nome's current "sucker claim."

Johnson spent several days dredging his misfortune, but the numerous barrel houses and at length decided to investigate this claim.

That night he came back jubilantly about gold. He had his pockets full of the stuff, but he had to pay $100,000 with better tools and took out $30,000 in 24 hours. The "sucker claim" finally netted more than $200,000.

F. M. Morawitz, Oregon, who crossed treacherous Chilean mountains to get to the Klondike and killed 20 gold seekers, said Dawson, Yukon, gold settlement, has a word to the wise, including name, age, sex, and date of birth.

The sordid, the Canadian seniors decided to make the most of his story, and the Klondike miners paid him out nearly $100,000.

Most "sucker claims" were just stories, but the Klondike miners, but every once in a while an inadequately-tested "digging" got a repetition for the record book.

Pats Beaten 8-4
In Series Opener

ORANGE Crush trained their seige guns on Beryl Westbrook of the Army and Navy Pats, touched her for nine ringing base hits and romped to a surprise 8-4 win in the opening game of the Edmonton ladies' softball championship series at the Boyle street diamond last night. Second game in the best-of-five series will be played Friday at the Boyle street grounds.

Pats were sporting a four-run lead as Orange Crush went to bat in the last half of the fourth inning and seemed safely headed for an easy triumph. Before the lumen was over, the score stood tied at 4-4 and the Crushers were never in trouble after.

Katie Martin walloped out a triple in the fifth inning and Paugus brought her home with a pair of runs in the sixth. The Pats added three more in the sixth. The game was called because of darkness.

STARRY HURLING

Annie Rippinger started on the mound for Orange Crush, holding Pats to three scattered hits in the five innings she worked. She was followed by Helen Thompson in the sixth, who turned in a smart job of relief hurling. Beryl Westbrook of the Boyle street diamond had the best of the events in the fifth.

PLAN ANOTHER TRANS-PACIFIC AIRWAYS BASE

Possibility Imperial Airways Will Establish Base At San Francisco

By FRANCIS L. McCARTHY

British United Press

TELEGRAMS SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7—

Eventual establishment of a second Trans-Pacific flying base at Treasure Island man-made site of the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition is foreseen here.

Only one of the two huge hangars at the site has been completed, three from the mighty San-Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, was leased by the American government to Pan American. Following the 1939 Exposition, the second will be at the disposal of an airway.

Utilities Manager Edward Callihoo believes there is a "distinct possibility" that the British Airways of Great Britain will establish commercial operations between Canada and Australia by 1939.

If international negotiations are carried out successfully, Callihoo says, the British will lease adequate hanger space for Imperial Airways bases.

He predicted that Pan American may participate in an Australian-San Francisco airline, or operate on an equal basis with the British concern.

Pan American test flights over a projected San Francisco-Tokyo route will be made shortly many months ago when the Samoan Clipper crashed in flames in the Pacific. Callihoo said he believed that this will long delay establishment of such a service.

Since then the prime minister has been suffering from an attack of appendicitis. It is now believed that the British will try to further their agreement and that when the new agreement is ready for signature, it will be signed at once. For that purpose, he said, he expects the Canada-United States agreement would be signed by the end of September.

WESTERN TRIP DELAYED

When he postponed his planned visit to London, Prime Minister Mackenzie King indicated he expected the Canada-United States agreement would be signed by the end of September.

Both the prime minister and

Callihoo believe that the new agreement will be signed in some southern resort.

Much interest attaches to the new agreement because of the Anglo-American agreement which has been in process of negotiation since the war began. It is believed to involve Canada in sacrifice of some of her preferences in the British market.

BATTERED BODY OF BOY FOUND TIED TO BOAT

TORONTO, Sept. 7.—The partially-clad and battered body of Alex Wong, 14, was found floating tied to the bottom of a sailing dinghy in which the Toronto youth set out on Lake Ontario with George Wong, his 18-year-old childhood sweetheart.

The girl's body was not found and it was thought she had drowned.

The couple were on a weekend cruise to visit relatives at Hamilton.

Fondly named "Wheedle" had lashed himself down after removing his shirt and trousers and layed just a yard away. At that time, William Birch and Leo Guy, 16, long-time friends of the couple, were swimming in the lake when they heard the boy's cries for help.

An airplane search first sighted the disabled dinghy.

Miss Ferguson apparently suffered a heart attack and died just a year ago. At that time, William Birch and Leo Guy, 16, long-time friends of the couple, were swimming in the lake when they heard the boy's cries for help.

Beware of the Fifteenth

By JOSEPH RAVOTTO

British United Press, exclusive cable to THE EDMONTON BULLETIN

PAIGE, Man., Sept. 7.—It is going to break loose in Europe on the fifteenth of this month, according to Raffaele Bendandi, world-famous astronomer and prophet, but it will be due to sunspots—not to diplomats and politicians.

Bendandi announced that the most important formation of sunspots for the last 10 years will break out in a rash on Sept. 15, causing thunder and lightning storms, meteoric showers and a spectacular comet.

In addition, Bendandi believes, numerous "undesirable deaths, suicides and other forms of armed conflict" are likely to come as a result of the sunspots.

LAST FOR DAYS

The sunspots will last several days, and will be the most important part of the century.

"There will be an enormous eruption on the face of the sun, sending out some terrible sunspots with numerous smaller eruptions bordering its circumference," he said.

ANSWER TO THE SUNSPOTS

There will be severe repercussions on the surface of the sun, but by attractions of other planets which jerk the surface of the sun out of its orbit, they get into certain alignments.

The chief planets which create the disturbances are Mars, Venus, the sun and Mercury, the Earth, Venus and Jupiter, and they do it about every 11 years. This is one of the 11-year cycles.

Bendandi expects the disturbance

Ottawa Expects Concluding Trade Deal in 2 Weeks

Curtailment of European Trip by Hon. W. D. Euler Held Important Towards Pending Agreement

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—Conclusion of the Canada-United States trade negotiations leading to a revision of the existing trade agreement is expected in about two weeks, according to the best information available here.

Sudden decision of Hon. W. D. Euler, minister of trade and commerce, to return home when he had planned a prolonged tour of Europe, and the recent hurried return of Sir Alexander MacKenzie, minister of the munitions which has been working on the revised agreement in Washington since early August, lend weight to the theory that this new agreement is approaching conclusion.

Mr. Euler will reach Canada next Saturday, Sept. 10, and Sir Alexander will return to Ottawa on Sunday.

Mr. Euler's return is due to the fact that he has been unable to secure a large pavilion, but curtailed his plans to confer with several European governments on trade possibilities.
